All theſe Aſpectes I haue noted for the behouſe of the young Practicioner (in any Profeſſion of healyng) who meaſuryng his generall methode of caryng, to the common courſe of the Signes, may myſtake his meaſhe in tyme of his beſt intent towardes his Patient, not knowyng that any one of theſe hate full concourſes, is to alter the benеuolent ſigne, into a qualitie proper to it ſelfe, whereby, in tyme of extreame intentions, the partie diſeaſed doth often myſcarry, to the vndoyng of the one, and diſcredite of the other: and therefore, I haue noted ſuch vnfortunate dayes of the Moones affliction, with ſpeciall Caratters, folowyng laſtly the ſigne.

The beſt times to Bath, are when the Moone is in Cancer, Scorpio, or Piſces.

For heare of Beard, or Head, the Moone in Libra, Sagittari, Aquari, or Piſces.

Rules for Huſbandry.

THe Sunne in the Zodyacke conueniently ſeated for the ſpeedy ſpring and generall grouth of all creſſiue and vegetable thynges: it is not amyſſe then diligently to obſerue the applying of the Moone, to ſuch places as may beſt farther thy entent, as to ſet, ſow ſeedes, graffe, and plant, the Moone well affected in Taurus, Virgo, and Capricorne, and all kindes of Corne in Cancer. Graffe alſo, when ſhe is encreaſyng, and in Taurus. and Aquary.

Sheare Sheepe, the Moone encreaſyng.

Fell hard Tymber, from the full to the change.

Fell Fryth, Coppice, or Fuell, at the fyrſt quarter.

Geld and lybbe Cattell, the Moone in Aries, Sagittari, or Capricorne.

Kyll fat Swyne for Bacon, the better to keepe his fatte in boylyng, the Moone at the full, but not long after.

The Anatomie of mans body, as the partes thereof are gouerned by the. xii. Celestiall Signes.

Fanuarie hath .xxxi. dayes.

Lay logges (my laddes) by loades into the fyre.
Be Myndfull Mayde, to make thy lyquer good.
A Nutmegge now, olde huddles cuppe requires.
Shrewde Sym from cold, with myttens, cloke, & hood.

A Prognostication.

Of the full Moone Eclipsed.

1589.

THE Moone beyng in some part duely oppolite to the Sunne, shall thereby in that quantitie of her oppolition suffer a lytle blemmyshe of her lyght, which wylbe seene with vs the. xv. of August next, about. vii of the clocke, and. iii. minutes in the euenyng, she beyng then in Pisces: the which in respect of her beyng in the. xii. house, as other speciall regardes, may heape some harme to men, as to fyshes: but the shadowe of her lyght, beyng slender, and her abode in this obscuritie, from her entraunce to the ende, not to exceede one houre and. v. minutes: the euyll is the lesse, and woulde worke no great effectes, were not other Reuolutions stoared with great lykelyhoodes of many infirmities, whereunto (in reason) this may adde a supply, accordyng to the tyme of prefixed influence: the which I leaue to the construction of the best.

A gene-

A Prognostication.

A generall prediction of Winter, 1589.

THis deere and hard season of Winter, bringing nothyng lesse then conuenient foode for the proper sustentation of earthly bodyes: but sweepyng both Garden and Garnerd, of all supplyes, may well be termed the enemy to kynde, who had his begynnyng (with vs) the. xi. day of December last. 1588 betweene the houres of. x. and. xi. the same day at nyght, when the Sunne entred the fyrst degree of Capricorne, which (as I gather) wyll stretch his force in sundry sortes, by sending forth raging windes, with dryuyng snowes, reakyng dusky and thycke cloudes, sturdy stormes and shewers, with pinchyng colde, and sodayne contrarietie of temperament (with some lykelyhood of an Earthquake) inferryng the death, and dearth of Cattell, to the breedyng of dyuers diseases in men, as payne in the Head, Eyes, and Eares, the Ioyntes, and the leaft partes of their bodyes, with other most dangerous, and deadly maladyes, more afflictyng the masculine sexe, then the femenine: besydes ryfe rumors of warlyke reportes, discordes, and dissentions, to the terrour of some, the muse of many, and speciall heede of all, to the great benefyte, laude, and commendation of the prouident Nobilitie, whose carefull forecast seemes not onely an obstackle of many mischyffes, but the very meanes vtterly to suppresse the malenolent ententes of the armed enimie, whose malyce is lykely hynder the accustomed trafique of Merchauntes by Sea.

A pre-

A prediction of the Spring.

LYke as the succeedyng Spring (notwithstandyng her entyre endeuour to furnyth the wastes and wantes of passed Winter, with needefull necessaries) makes her returne this. xi. of March, betweene the houres of. iii. and. iiii. in the mornyng, when the Sunne beganne to touch the fyrst part of Aries, wyll seeme pestered with improper weather, well syttyng the speedy growyng of vegetable thynges: so wyll she seeme in a second wyse distrest, by defect of paynefull laboures, to tyll and trymme the earth, in conuenient season, to receyue the seedes of the fruites intended for afterstore, who obstinately contemnyng the late cheapenes or Grayne, occasioned by plentie, then thankefully takyng tooles in hande to labour the continuance thereof, wyll eyther idlely loyter, or lycentiously lysten to the nouelties of millitarie motions, and dreamyng deuises of busy braynes (the onely inuentors of many martiall reportes) the which are very lykely to spreade in marueylous maner. The excesse dyet of the people, and momentary mutation of the ayre, are lykely to inflict dyuers sycknesses on the multitude: as sharpe and hot Feuers, pestilentiall diseases, sore Eyes, tortures in the Guttes, and lowest part of the Belly, but also Abortions to Women with chylde, and death of Chyldren, but speciall towardes the east, and south partes.

A prediction of Sommer.

THe inconueniences before written, seeme lytle or nothyng in this Reuolution of Sommer to reuert to a better state, which beganne this. xi. day of June, a lytle after. xii. of the clocke at nyght, when the Sunne attaynde the fyrst minute of Cancer. The course to trade by Sea, wyll be with lesse restraynt then before, to the generall contentment of all sortes, which wyll depende very tyckle, and vnstayed, more through beliefe of ranglyng ru-more, then of certayne proofe: not without the offence to some myndes, the ende whereof wylbe profite and commoditie. The conuertion of the ayre (this season) from extreame, to extreame contraryes, doth conclude (with Hippo. Mutationes temporum, maxime pariunt morbos. &c.) the encrease of many sykenesses by corruption of blood, as Pockes, Measelles, Pestilence, Pustles, Appostumes, payne of the Head, distyllyng sharpe Rewmes, causyng paynes, and infirmities of the Brest, as Coughes, shortnes of Wynde, Pluristes, empiema, perypneumonia, and such lyke, whereof many wyll dye, besydes dreadfull thunders, and strange lyghtnynges: I suppose some sprinklyng, or fyery rayes, wyll appeare in the skie, to the terrour of the beholders. The accustomed store of Wine, Oyle, Butter, and vnctuus thynges (in respect of former plentie) wyll fayle. And Horses become deare.

A prediction of Harucst.

THis Quarter, takyng his begynnyng this xiiii. of September, about. ir. of the clocke before noone, when the Sunne beganne to seaze the fyrst part of Libra, beyng the onely tyme of graspyng, and gatheryng togeather the fruites of the Feelde, for after store, wyll (by great lykelyhoode) not exceede in abundance, nor discende into extreame penurie (so as the weather be no wyse offensiue) the which wyll remayne very vnconstant, declynyng from heate to wette, and from colde stormes, to thunder, and so to colde agayne, which wyll be entermedled with hot bloames, and lyghtes the ayre, and after to frost, and other tymely winter weather, to the detriment of the profitable Bees, and hurt of Cattell, and damage to Fysh, with many diseases to Men, as Head ache, sore Eyes, Feuers of dyuers kyndes, Coughes, and other dangerous maladies, and sodayne death to men, and hazard to chyldren by Woormes. The bruite of broyles wyll exceede any actuall attempt. Some long absent Trauaylers are lykely to returne home, with no lesse commoditie to their Countrey, then ioy to their Parentes, Frendes, and alyes.
